Dear [REDACTED],

You have an exceptionally bright college future, and a Northern Arizona University education could be your next big step. Because of this, I want you to access Your Road Map to Visiting Northern Arizona University, a free resource that will help you familiarize yourself with our beautiful campus and show you must-see spots throughout Lumberjack country.

When you respond, I'll also include two small gifts, compliments of NAU. Here's a hint: One of them will help you plant the seeds of knowledge that will continue to grow throughout your time in college.

Plus, checking out Your Road Map will give you access to our NAU virtual tour—an interactive experience with 360-degree views of campus.

A student like you is no doubt hearing from many other colleges and universities during this exciting time in your life. I just want to remind you of our interest in you and let you know more about what you'll find here.

Nestled at the foot of the San Francisco Peaks, our location in Flagstaff is home to a thriving arts and culture scene, four distinct seasons, and nearly 266 days of sunshine each year. Not to mention you'll find endless opportunities for adventure in places such as Sedona, the Painted Desert and Petrified Forest, and the Grand Canyon.

But, [REDACTED], we aren't just a place where you can hike, kayak, bike, explore, and ski. With an exceptional education at a predictable cost, more than 100 majors of study, and more than 350 student organizations, we think we could be the right fit for you in every way. And if the Flagstaff mountain life isn't for you, we have our NAU Online option and 20 campuses located across Arizona.

Access your NAU road map and special gifts by going to my.NorthernArizonaU.org/explore or scan the code above with your phone. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Dani Donaldson
